- Transferring KYC

Attention!

If you delete the KYC information of an existing account, you will not be able to use that KYC information for future transactions on the exchange.

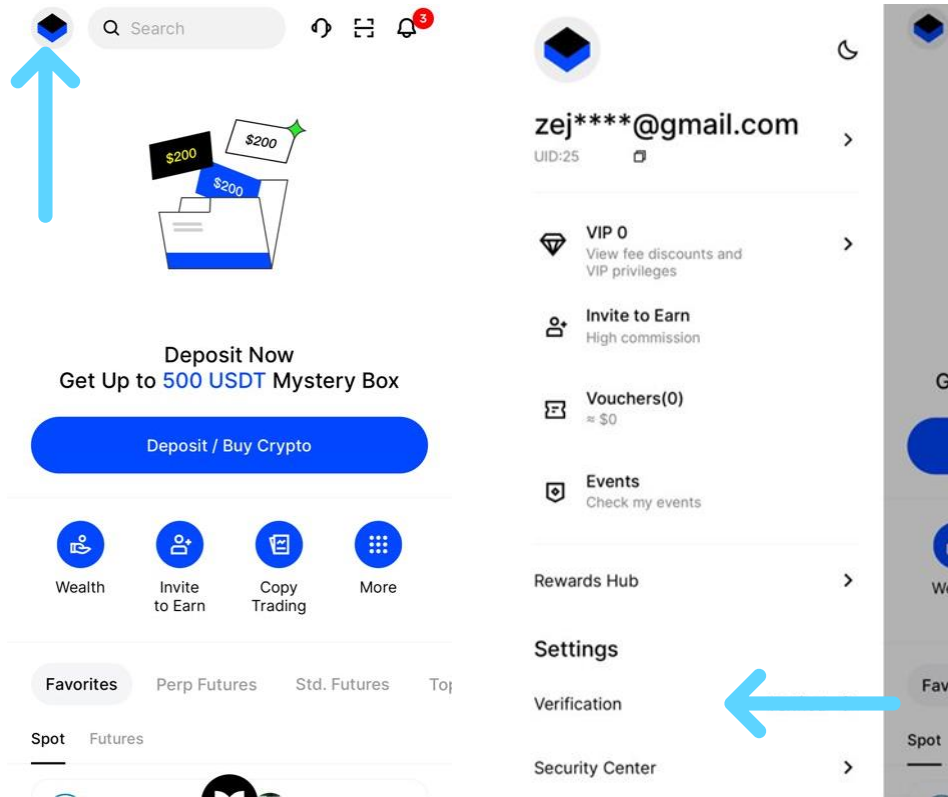

If you already have an account, please create a new account and transfer the KYC information there.

Please take note of the following before transferring your identity:

1. Only accounts with Advanced KYC verification can transfer identity. Accounts with Basic KYC verification currently cannot access this service.
2. After the transfer, both the current account and the destination account cannot transfer identity again within 180 days.
3. The account receiving the verified identity must be in unverified status.
4. Identity cannot be transferred if there are any ongoing P2P orders or active P2P ads under the account. Please wait until the order or ad is closed to proceed with the identity transfer.
5. The current account must have no transaction records within 7 days.
6. Identity transfer is not supported for accounts in an abnormal state.
7. Upon successful transfer, the current account will become unverified and the destination account will become verified.
8. After the transfer is completed, any KYC-related rewards not issued to the current account will no longer be available.

Identity Transfer

- 1. Following the transfer, neither the current account nor the destination account can initiate another identity transfer within 180 days.
- 2. Users with ongoing P2P orders or ads will not be able to initiate the identity transfer.
- 3. The current account must have no transaction records within 30 days.
- 4. Upon successful transfer, the current account will become unverified and the destination account will become verified.
- 5. Once the transfer is completed, any unissued KYC-related rewards in the current account will no longer be available.

☐ Don't remind me again

OK

After reviewing the notes, press OK.

Please be aware:

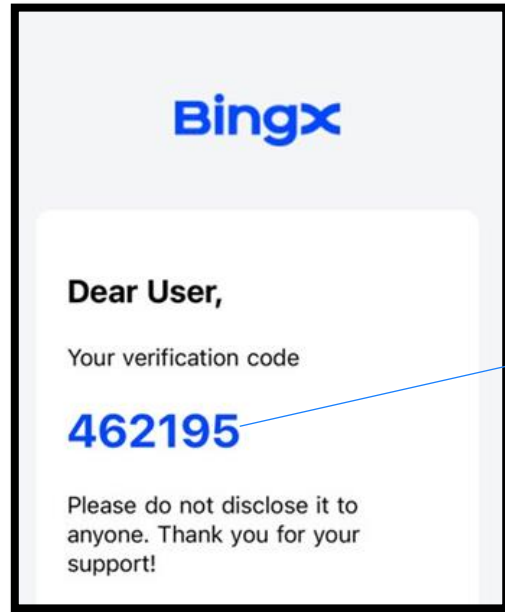

- KYC transfers are only allowed once every 180 days.
- Before transferring your KYC, make sure to withdraw all funds to another wallet or exchange.
